THE GIRL WITH A HEART OF GOLD

Long ago, there lived a beautiful and kind-hearted girl named Cinderella. After her mother passed away, her father married a woman who had two selfish and cruel daughters. Sadly, he too died, leaving Cinderella at the mercy of her stepmother, Lady Teresa, and her two stepsisters, Desidera and Clarissa.

A LIFE OF HARDSHIP

Lady Teresa forced Cinderella to work as a servant in the house sweeping floors, washing clothes, and cooking meals while her stepsisters wore the finest dresses and bossed her around. Yet, despite it all,

Cinderella remained hopeful and kind, befriending the mice and birds that lived in the house.

THE ROYAL INVITATION

One day, exciting news spread across the kingdom: The prince would host a grand ball at the palace to find a bride!

Desidera and Clarissa were overjoyed and began preparing their most extravagant gowns, while Lady Teresa sneered at Cinderella:
«A plain girl like you isn't invited to the ball!»

Cinderella was heartbroken but didn't lose hope. That evening, as she wept in the garden, a fairy godmother suddenly appeared and said:
«Don't cry, my dear. A kind soul like you deserves to go to the ball!»

MAGIC AND WONDER

With a wave of her wand, the fairy turned a pumpkin into a golden carriage, mice into horses, and Cinderella's ragged dress into a dazzling blue gown! But she warned her:
«The magic will end at midnight. Do not be late!e you deserves to go to the ball!»

MEETING THE PRINCE

When Cinderella arrived at the palace, everyone was mesmerized by her mysterious beauty. Even Prince Leandro couldn't take his eyes off her and danced with her all night. . But as the clock struck midnight, Cinderella remembered the fairy's warning and rushed away, leaving behind a tiny glass slipper on the palace steps

THE SEARCH FOR THE OWNER

The next day, the prince vowed to find the girl who had stolen his heart. He went to every house in the kingdom, trying the slipper on every maiden's foot. When he arrived at Cinderella's home, Desidera and Clarissa desperately squeezed their feet into the slipper, but it didn't fit.

Then Cinderella stepped out from the kitchen and said: «Let me try!» Lady Teresa and the stepsisters laughed, but the slipper slid perfectly onto Cinderella's foot!

HAPPILY EVER AFTER

The prince recognized her as the girl he'd fallen for and asked for her hand in marriage. Cinderella became a princess, but she never forgot to stay gentle and generous, even forgiving her stepmother and stepsisters for their cruelty. From that day on, Cinderella and Prince Leandro lived in endless happiness, always remembering that a kind heart is the most precious treasure of all.
